Cut in Taxes, Boost in Pensions Highlights of Tories' Fall Budget

Victoria Gyros Welcome 800 Guests

Liberals Forgot to Leave Payroll for Civil Servants

(From Canadian Press)

OTTAWA — Finance Minister Donald Fleming said Tuesday night he plans to bring down a new budget in the fall to reduce taxes, increase old-age pensions and possibly curb government spending.

His announcement highlighted a big day of news from Ottawa which promised private enterprise competition for government monopoly operations such as the CBC and TCA.

The new Progressive Conservative fiscal chief also said he will be moving toward easing of the federal "tight-money" policy as quickly as possible with the hope of reviving Canada's housing slump.

TO FULFIL PROMISES

The last budget, brought down by Liberal Finance Minister Harris last March, forecast a surplus for the year of $125,000,000. Mr. Fleming indicated the Progressive Conservatives intend to use what surplus is available to fulfil election promises.

The MP for North Eglinton, who took office last Friday, said he is a "strong believer in thrift and hard work."

The individual who works hard for his money is entitled to the fruits of his labor, he said. Governments should not tax people to the point where incentive and enterprise were reduced.

WAR ON WASTE

He, therefore, as finance minister would:

1. "Declare open war on waste and extravagance in government.
2. "Will not hold with those who think the government can manage people's money better than the people who earn it themselves."

WHERE'S MONEY?

Mr. Fleming is facing a problem thrown in his lap when the rejiring Liberals promised to raise salaries of civil service workers.

Now the question is: Where does the money come from?

The question, Mr. Fleming said, is whether the employees will get the actual money now or have to wait until next fall when Parliament is called into session and a new supply of funds is voted.

JUST ENOUGH

Currently, the new Progressive Conservative government has only sufficient funds to pay government bills until next Oct. 31. That was the supply voted by Parliament before it was dissolved last April.

There was no provision in that supply for the recently-announced increases which amount to about $110,000,000 in a full year.

The boosts are retroactive to May 1. If Mr. Fleming allows the money to go out of the voted supply immediately, he won't have enough left over to pay bills between Oct. 15 and Oct. 31.

"The problem must rest in that form. If we pay now, we will be running out of money after Oct. 15."

However, there must be a fall session, he added, and the government would be asking immediately after Parliament opened for a fresh interim supply of funds to carry on business.

Stories Trace Lost Salesman

Arthur Yurkowski, 35-year-old salesman of Victoria who has been missing since noon of Monday, June 17, is safe and well in Calgary.

Confirmation of his identity was received by Victoria detective department late yesterday afternoon in a telegram from Calgary police.

Mrs. Yurkowski could not be reached for comment last evening, but Kaarie Norgaard, her husband's employer, said she was overwhelmed with joy and relief.

"The suspense of the past week has been terrible for her," said Mr. Norgaard. "We are all delighted that things have worked out."

"We would like, too," he added, "to thank the newspapers for their help. They have done a great deal to help and we are all grateful."

Princess Anne of Canada

New Role for Royal Family?

By RICHARD L. THOMAS
Colonist London Correspondent

LONDON — Appointment of Princess Margaret as Governor-General of Canada may be discussed at the Commonwealth prime ministers' conference here this week, it was learned yesterday.

The question of royal representatives in the Commonwealth countries is likely to be reconsidered as Australia has put in a claim for the Queen Mother Elizabeth to be appointed as its next Governor-General.

The suggestion that Princess Margaret succeed Governor-General Vincent Massey in Canada was made last week by the Daily Colonist.

Unofficial approaches were made some months ago for Princess Margaret to visit British Columbia for the centennial celebrations in 1958 but protocol demanded that the invitation must come from Ottawa on the basis of a nation-wide tour in which no province was given special preference.

It was learned unofficially that Princess Margaret would be pleased to visit B.C. but that all was not smooth sailing in Ottawa. The changeover from Liberals to Conservatives may now change this attitude and officials feel that the B.C. visit may be the peg to hang the governor-generalship on.

The position may also be made easier by the fact that Princess Alexandra, daughter of the Duchess of Kent, is now taking more and more public engagements and will be able to relieve Princess Margaret in Britain and take over most of her duties.

Britain would be delighted to have members of the Royal Family on duty in the Commonwealth countries and there would be no opposition to such a move in this country.

There have already been preliminary talks on the possibility of Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh being resident in different parts of the Commonwealth and sharing

Formosa Tension

High Brass Reorganized

TAIPEI, Formosa (UP)—Nationalist China yesterday reorganized its military high command and put the offshore defence islands on alert against a possible Chinese Communist invasion.

A Communist artillery barrage today rained 9,395 shells on the Quemoy Island complex. Casualties and damage were heavy.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek promoted Gen. "Tiger" Wang Shu Ming, 52, from air force commander to be chief of the general staff. Outgoing chief of staff Gen. Peng Meng Chi was named army commander.

Observers here said the Reds might try to take Little Quemoy, between Quemoy and the mainland.

Screaming Rioters Wreck U.K. Track

LONDON (UP)—Police made baton charges and firemen turned hoses on a screaming crowd of 500 persons at a London greyhound stadium Monday night when a dispute over a race verdict turned into a riot.

Police spirited Prince Bernhard of Holland out of a racecourse restaurant before he could be involved.

At least 14 persons were injured in the battle. Police poured in from miles around to battle the rioters, who set fire to the Harringay Stadium grandstand, overturned a bookmakers' stand, and threw a fireman through a plate glass window.

Police held seven men on charges of assault yesterday morning. It was one of the worst riots in British racing history.

Trouble started when judges ruled a dog called Billycan Sprint out of second place, claiming it bit the winner, Rubens Commission. Billycan Sprint was the favorite, Rubens Commission a 10 to one chance.

Island Flyers Escape

NANAIMO (CP) — A light plane crashed into Long Lake north of Nanaimo yesterday but the two men aboard were unhurt.

Pilot Gordon Warren and his passenger, Jim Bonar, had taken off from the lake on a flight to Kitimat. They reached a height of about 200 when the plane was caught in a downdraft. The men escaped with minor abrasions.

The Piper float plane was destroyed.

Mr. Bonar was seriously injured at the opposite end of the lake three years ago when he nosed a plane into the foggy rim.

Three Killed In Crash

PRINCETON, B.C. (CP)—Three persons were killed Tuesday night in a traffic accident on the Hope-Princeton Highway 10 miles east of here. RCMP withheld the names.

Little Audrey Starts Career

NEW ORLEANS (UP)—Audrey, first hurricane of the season, sprang up in the southwest Gulf of Mexico yesterday and pointed its 100-mile-an-hour winds at the Louisiana-Texas coastline. The weather bureau said the storm "is expected to increase slowly in size and intensity."

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

YESTERDAY my little boy turned into a rabbit. I had been expecting it. To mark the end of term at the Miriam Thomas School, there was a concert and playlet. Some of the children were rabbits, and others were birds.

Despite all efforts at secrecy in the weeks of rehearsal, word of the program had leaked out to the parents. There were reports of temperamental rabbits who held out for bird roles, and of birds who who felt they were miscast.

But on the day, it went smoothly. We parents sat on chairs in the patio and saw our young come loping through the garden in their costumes with ears and tails, or wings, according to the parts they had to play.

Older children sang from the room above, out of our sight. The teacher, looking a shade worried, called out cues to the invisible choir. First she wanted rabbit music, then berry-picking music.

Those rabbits—as well—disciplined a group of small beasts as I have seen for some time—frolicked across the grass, past a painted cardboard wall and gate; huddled into a cardboard nest.

Rabbit Lifts Paw

Our own particular rabbit, seeing his father and mother, lifted a paw in greeting. There were exclamations from several parents, as they identified their children, and subdued laughter at minor fumbles among the performers.

This was the story of Peter Rabbit, in songs and actions. Three sturdy young gardeners frightened birds and rabbits from their vegetables. Then Peter, the star of the show among the small ones, sang his song, squeezed under the cardboard gate (nearly demolishing the fence in the process) and gorged himself on imaginary produce.

And so the program went, the playlet followed by dances and music, little girls with flowing dresses and garlands in their hair, playing wooden pipes, very clear and sweet; and recitations, in French and English, and a "Sleeping Beauty" playlet by the older ones.

For months now, the boy (aged four) had been bringing home snippets of information about schoolmates. We had come to look upon some of them as fabulous creatures, part elf or goblin, but now here they were flesh and blood, with real parents looking fondly down on them.

And of course, all the parents were friendly and a little curious about one another. Looking interested but slightly constrained, they exchanged small talk and polite, appraising glances. Some of them wondered what domestic secrets had been prattled about the school by their children. For some fathers and mothers, this was their first school concert, a charming and significant milestone. Here in this clean, sylvan place, they felt that the boys and girls were in good hands.

Husbands in Gun Duel

Murder Follows Wife-Swapping

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (UP)—A wife-swapping paid off in double murder yesterday. The two husbands fought a gun duel in the dark and the winner then killed his ex-wife and son.

Thomas Whitaker, 39, also blasted the arm of his daughter as she pleaded for her life. He then tracked down his partner in wife-trading, Stewart Martin, 35, and crippled him with a shotgun blast in the leg.

Whitaker, a truck driver, hid for 12 hours afterwards at an old pumping station on Wabash River bottomlands, meditating what he had done.

He then thumbed a ride back into Terre Haute, walked into the county jail, and said: "I hear the sheriff wants to talk to me."

Authorities said Whitaker gave a statement on why and how he broke into his ex-friend's luxurious suburban home and tried to wipe out the people he had loved with a double-barreled shotgun.

He appeared composed. All he would say of his murdered ex-wife was "I didn't love her any more."

Killed were his former wife, Mrs. Alma Martin, 36, and her son, Jack Whitaker, 11. Whitaker broke into the locked room where they were hiding and gunned them down.

His daughter, Regina, 9, screamed "don't kill me, daddy, I'll go live with you."

Whitaker had apparently decided to wipe out his ex-wife and children because a judge last April awarded her custody of the youngsters. He had begun threatening their lives last weekend, Martin said.

Martin tried to protect his wife and step-children by matching Whitaker shot-for-shot in the dark of his home. He and Whitaker fired at least a dozen shots at each other.

Only last year, before they traded wives, Whitaker and Martin were close friends. The couples spent many evenings together.

Then the couples were divorced two months apart, the Martins after 20 years of marriage and two children, Diane and Donald. Whitaker married Martin's ex-wife last December. Martin took Whitaker's former mate as his wife in April.

Authorities said it did not appear the couple had worked out any previous agreement to trade mates. It apparently "just happened," they said.

New Role Suggested For Royalty

their time as they now do between England and Scotland.

Another suggestion made here, but obviously dependent on the wishes of Canada, is that when Prince Charles is proclaimed Prince of Wales that Princess Anne should be named Princess of Canada or alternatively that she should become princess of all Commonwealth countries and thus strengthen the bonds of royalty.

There is confidence here that the prime ministers' conference will sow the seeds of closer Commonwealth relationship and greater integration and that Prime Minister John Diefenbaker's attitude will be the main factor.

Canada's past attitude has been described as "friendly but lukewarm" and "diplomatically difficult."

Prime Minister Diefenbaker has given Canada the best British press for years and everyone is predicting warmer and more cordial relations.

It seems probable that efforts will be made to have the visit of Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh lengthened rather than the short stay originally planned.

Driver Says Injured Girl Darted Out on Crosswalk

A three-year-old girl was taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital late yesterday afternoon after colliding with a light truck at Cedar and Shelbourne.

Maureen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Graham, was crossing Shelbourne in the crosswalk when struck by the truck driven by a Victoria youth.

The girl was admitted to hospital suffering facial cuts and was held for observation.

Driver of the truck, when questioned, said: "She gave no warning at all, she just darted out in front of me."

Saanich council will be asked to draw up a by-law outlawing the sale and storage of gasoline in glass containers. Recommendation was made by public works fire and water committee last night on the advice of Fire Chief Joseph Law.

Many persons purchase fuel from service stations for machines such as power mowers, he said. Often they bring a glass bottle from home to have it filled. There is danger of ignition.

Some stations have refused to sell the fuel in glass containers, he said.

Salesman's Job Waiting for Him

Roger at Suite 1, 2624 Quadra, apparently had an attack of amnesia.

Last Monday afternoon he went out on his sales route, parked his car on King's Road between Douglas and Rose, and vanished.

First word that he might be in Calgary came to Victoria police early yesterday, but still lacked confirmation.

Mr. Norgaard, branch manager here of a brush company, told the Colonist last night how that confirmation came about.

Mr. Norgaard had sent Victoria newspaper clippings, telling of Mr. Yurkoski's disappearance and including a picture and a description, to company offices in Calgary and to Hamilton.

Calgary newspapers had carried a report of an amnesia victim in a local hospital, but described him as grey-haired and 50 to 60 years old.

When the Victoria clippings arrived, an accountant in the local office of the company took them to Calgary police. The visit to the hospital followed, and identification was established.

Details are not yet available, but the telegram from the Calgary police said Mr. Yurkowski had recovered his memory, had been released from hospital, and was back in a local hotel.

He has a job to come back to here, a job he is not considered as ever having left, Mr. Norgaard said.

"If he's able to work he certainly has a job to come back to. We don't know how well he is, but all our boys are anxious to help him get going again," Mr. Norgaard added.

"And remember this, that money angle—the $200 of company money he had—never did enter our minds. We were only concerned with getting Art back with his family again. We only want to get him back on his feet."

Switch to Shell Premium with TCP* and restore lost power while you drive!

How can a gasoline bring back power your engine has lost? Only by overcoming the cause! You see, most engines lose power as a result of certain deposits which form on spark plugs and in combustion chambers. In fact, engineers agree that these deposits are the major cause of power loss in modern high compression engines. (Even a new engine can lose power within 3,000 miles). But TCP in Shell Premium Gasoline neutralizes these deposits while you drive—brings back the power your engine has lost.

Big Weekend Coming

Everything That Moves Booked Solid

Transportation firms are bracing for the two-way shift in tourist population in and out of Victoria during the Dominion Day long weekend.

Steamer travel between Vancouver Island and Vancouver from Nanaimo and Victoria is reported heavily booked on both Friday and Monday.

Canadian Pacific's coast service said that the Friday midnight boat to Vancouver is solidly booked as are the 8, 8 and 9 p.m. sailings from Nanaimo.

"Very little" space is reported still open on the 3.15 and 11.15 p.m. departures from Nanaimo.

Sailings in both directions between Victoria and Vancouver Monday are reported close to being filled. Port Angeles services, handling much of the traffic normally taken by the Seattle boats, are "steadily filling up."

Return trip from Vancouver at 7 p.m. to Nanaimo July 1 is also booked up.

Trans-Canada Air Lines will place eight extra flights at the disposal of overflow holiday travellers Friday in addition to the regular 19 round trips between Victoria, Vancouver and Seattle.

Six of the special flights will be added to the Vancouver service, of which three will be 62-passenger North Stars. Two flights will be added to the Seattle run.

The same situation will be duplicated Monday, but with only two North Star flights instead of three.

No Added Planes

Most of the Seattle flights Saturday are booked, TCA officials said, but no additional planes will be added to the Victoria service unless there is sufficient demand.

Vancouver Island Coach Lines announced that regular schedules would be maintained Dominion Day on the Victoria-Nanaimo runs, Nanaimo-Campbell River, Victoria-Sooke-Jordan River, Victoria-Sidney-Deep Cove.

An extra bus will leave Duncan Monday at 7:45 p.m. for Lake Cowichan and Honeymoon Bay.

Duncan-Port Renfrew service will be on-request Sunday with a tentative departure from Duncan at 7.20 p. m. A regular bus will leave Duncan at the same time Monday.

An extra from Duncan to Cayeuse Camp will leave Duncan Monday at 7.45 p.m.

Nanaimo-Port Alberni service will be bolstered with an extra coach Saturday leaving Nanaimo at 9 a.m. and arriving at Port Alberni at 10.45 a.m. On Monday, an extra coach will leave Nanaimo at 10.45 p.m. for Crofton and Port Alberni.

An additional return trip from Port Alberni to Nanaimo leaving at 7 a.m. and arriving at 9 a.m. has been included in the weekend service by VICL.

From Port Alberni to Franklyn River, there will be no service at all Sunday but on Monday service will revert to the Sunday schedule.

Victoria rural services to West Saanich and Cordova Bay Monday will be the same as Sunday.

Highlight of the weekend service will be a "mystery trip" Monday which will leave the city at 1.30 p.m., returning at 5.

Execute in Empire Stadium Convicted Killer Suggests

VANCOUVER (CP) — Thomas Sidney Syme, 32, was to have died yesterday on the gallows at Oakalla Prison.

But his life sentence was commuted to life imprisonment for the New Year's Day love-triangle slaying of his best friend, Paul Powling.

Yesterday The Sun, under Syme byline, published a three-column appeal to the public and newspapers to fight the "barbaric sadistic" death penalty.

Syme spent weeks in the death cell at Oakalla and says:

"The most compassionate, understanding and deep-thinking human cannot understand, cannot feel and cannot imagine the indescribable mental hell that the victim on death row feels . . . Killers are not all cowards —he still undergoes a mental anguish that no mortal should have the power to inflict on another. Death is inevitable but death to the ordinary person and death to the wretched creature in death row are worlds apart . . ."

MAKE IT PUBLIC

He says that if the public demands capital punishment and condones it, "I say let us take it to the public."

Syme would have public executions, not behind walls and closed doors.

'Morning Coffee Break Weakening U.S. Health'

PARKERSBURG, W.VA. (AP) — A nutrition specialist asserted Tuesday that "the morning coffee break is weakening the health of our nation."

Dorothy van Gundy of Arlington, Calif., member of the staff of the International Nutrition Laboratory, addressed the annual state conference of the Seventh-Day Adventists. Miss van Gundy said:

"Some 50 per cent of Americans suffer from low blood sugar. And that is caused largely by national acceptance of the coffee break as well as too much sugar on our foods and our summertime overdosing on soda pop . . .

"No other race of people have as many ulcers and headaches as Americans.

Joint Municipal Hall

REGARDLESS of the future issue of amalgamation in the Greater Victoria area—and that it has a future few could doubt—the immediate question before the City of Victoria and Saanich Municipality now, it seems to us, is the present declared unsatisfactory state of their respective municipal headquarters. In spite of some confusion of that issue in recent public discussions, it seems reasonably clear that Saanich must enlarge its municipal hall accommodation very soon; while Victoria will need similar relief in the near future. If a "joint" municipal administration building could effect that it would be money saved for both areas.

The plebiscite which could have real meaning in this situation would be one asking the electors of Saanich if they wished to co-operate in a joint-hall enterprise with the City of Victoria: and this entirely apart from any union of municipal services. Separately Victoria and Saanich could use a joint administration building to their individual advantage. Both of them might save a considerable sum of money for their ratepayers in so doing; relieve the pressure on their present accommodations and keep themselves as completely distinct as they now are. The joint-hall plan is only that, and not a proposal in any form for the union of two municipalities.

If the ratepayers of Saanich were given an opportunity to express their will on the joint-hall proposal in connection with the inadequacy of the present headquarters at Royal Oak one does not doubt that they would vote on that issue decisively. Apart from all shades of conflicting opinion on the subject, there must be a best course for Saanich to follow. It is difficult to believe that the four-of-everything arrangement — four putative new municipal headquarters, four new central firehalls, four new police stations and so forth — can be followed much longer in any event. Construction costs have risen, and shared accommodation would be one way of meeting that obstinate factor.

Too Much Meddling

CONFUSED and confusing discussion in city council over hours during which people may or may not do business in Victoria serves to demonstrate the excessive regulation to which "free" enterprise is subjected. Gasoline station service affords an apt illustration. This is as clearly a public utility as public transportation. If the operators of gas stations are willing to serve motorists 24 hours a day, what business is it of a provincial government, a local council or anyone else to say they may not?

As for the attempt to perpetuate the absurd policy of permitting 10 stations to remain open while requiring all the others to close, that is the rankest kind of discrimination. On what legal or moral principles could it be sustained? If it is right and proper for one gasoline station to do business 24 hours a day, so it should be for a competitor across the street. It is no concern of a city council whether or not there is enough trade offering. That's up to the operators. If they find themselves losing money through staying open too long they'll soon fix a more profitable schedule.

Much the same goes for all forms of retail trading. What is the purpose of these restraints on hours of business, whether by provincial law or local by-law? Is it the protection of the public? If so what protection does the public need? It cannot be for the protection of the employees, because the labor laws and union contracts take good care of that. No one engaged in these discussions seems to detect any inconsistency in the fact that some liquor stores, which are retail business operated by the Province, remain open until 11 o'clock at night. Could that be because the element of competition does not enter?

This controversy over late shopping, six-day weeks, five-and-a-half-day weeks and five-day weeks has been dragging on for years, and as far as one can see there will be no satisfactory end to it as long as government at any level continues to meddle with the affairs of private business. If it is impossible to devise laws acceptable and fair to all then it would be better to have none. The public isn't going to be hurt by the repeal of restrictive regulations that outlived the purpose for which they were intended long ago. As for the council, its time would be much more profitably employed elsewhere than in this interminable haggling.

Going to the Dogs

WHEN they condemn the ways of youth grown-ups not infrequently forget their own past. They see blue ruin in rock 'n' roll or any other of the fads and fancies of exuberant youngsters. The younger generation are always going to the dogs, according to their elders. The latter overlook that in their own day they were supposed to be going there too, but that as discretion increased they managed to become sedate, respectable members of society.

A story from Aldershot exemplifies this very nicely. No less a figure than Field Marshal Montgomery — commonly thought of as the very image of a stern martinet and disciplinarian—confessed to a graduating class that when he was a military cadet he was as high-spirited as the next one. Indeed at Sandhurst nearly 50 years ago he set fire to the shirt-tail of a fellow cadet he did not like when the latter was about to go to bed. Not surprisingly the burned cadet "had difficulty in sitting down for some time."

For this misdemeanor the future field marshal was reduced to the ranks, and obviously he did not leave Sandhurst as one of its star products. Youthful peccadilloes did not prevent his upward progress as the years went on, however, as all the world knows. He overcame indiscipline in fact to become a strict commander who had no compunction about demoting subordinates who did not measure up to his adult standards.

Probably the famous "Monty" has now mellowed, so that he can look back to his youthful pranks with indulgence. This, perhaps, is what adults should do —at least to some degree—before they hasten to condemn the rising generation. In essence it is no different from their own: it merely exhibits its high spirits in other ways. Victoria is full of respectable and respected citizens who when young were thought to be going to the dogs but who, like Lord Montgomery, turned out to be real solid chaps after all.

Interpreting the News

Nasser's Submarines

By JOSEPH MacSWEEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

THE reasoning of the Kremlin rulers in "selling" submarines to President Nasser's weak fleet is something of a puzzle.

It seemed especially odd since apparently Egypt has few if any personnel capable of manning such modern, long-range undersea craft.

One answer could have a face-saving basis. Nasser's prestige has taken some nasty knocks recently in the Arab world. His pose as the central figure in a united bloc of Arab countries has become fuzzy, to say the least.

King Hussein of Jordan brought his country to the brink of civil war in repudiating a Nasser-inspired drift into the Soviet orbit. After Hussein kicked out his pro-Egyptian government and the Jordanian crisis reached its height, the U.S. 6th Fleet quickly put to sea from southern France and sailed to the troubled zone.

This show of overwhelming power did much to cool Arab passions at a time when Hussein was by no means solid in his position.

It is possible the Russians decided that something more formidable than Nasser's forces was needed in the Mediterranean to remind the Arabs of various countries that the Soviet, too, is powerful at sea.

The submarines fit into Soviet countermoves against the Eisenhower doctrine for military and economic aid in the Middle East. And in any case, Nasser doubtless feels the need of greater strength, now that his erstwhile bosom allies, Saudi Arabia and Jordan, have turned against him.

Thinking Aloud

"... of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

YOU might have noticed the odd headline in the paper these recent days reading "John D." This isn't disrespect to Canada's new prime minister; it's just bowing to the inevitable.

Type, being metal, cannot be squeezed, and for a headline, especially a one-column headline, "Diefenbaker" is a terribly long word. Too long to be fitted in.

Not many people appreciate the difficulty involved in writing headlines, I suppose. Often enough I daresay they wonder at the seemingly cryptic or tortuous use of the words employed. This all comes about because of the conflicting problems of type and space.

The bigger-sized head—that is type—it is decided to put on a story the more compact the wordage must be. If the head is to be spread over three or more columns there is room for manoeuvre, but in the case of a one-column head it's often a ticklish job. Headline writers have to wrack their brains and in a hurry too.

If you doubt this pick out a headline in the paper and write one in its stead after counting the units (letters) that must not be exceeded. And do it in five minutes.

In time brief headline references may acquire another connotation. Across the line newsmen found "Eisenhower" to be an awkward word for typographical purposes and the now well-known "Ike" was coined. Americans are more fond of colloquial terms than we are, especially where public figures are concerned, and "Ike" might have become "Ike" anyway. But now that reference carries with it an affectionate quality.

So did "Winnie" when used by some British papers when he was in his wartime heyday. This wasn't disrespect but endearment. When R. B. Bennett was prime minister of Canada he was well and favorably known as "R.B." And both "Winnie" and "R.B." were handy for newsmen.

Give him time and perhaps "John D." will come to mean more than just a headline. Anyway, although it's not his fault, "Diefenbaker" is an awkward word to get into a head and since its owner is the prime minister anything he says or does warrants fairly large-size type.

Thus the "John D."

Men don't pick their names; they inherit them and must accept the consequences. I shouldn't expect a political party to worry much about headlines when they choose a name — although if they're wise they should—and it's often inherited too. But it's a lucky thing for a party if the name is short.

It means more headline reference and thus more publicity.

The CCF is very fortunate in this respect. The name—Co-operative Commonwealth Federation—is a headline writer's nightmare but the initials couldn't be bettered. CCF can be fitted easily into any head no matter the size.

The Social Credit contraction "Socred" and the whole word "Liberal" are easily enough handled too; they don't take up much space. "Conservative" isn't so convenient unless in small type and small type is no asset to a political party.

As for "Progressive-Conservative" this is simply out of the question for a headline writer, and "Pro-Con" is both ambiguous and ugly. If I were "John D." I'd change the name of the party to plain "Tory." Newsmen would seize on this as a godsend and the Tories would reap the publicity benefit.

In my own small personal way I've had cause to think of type sizes. Having no middle name I once thought of adopting a maternal one and making my byline read "T. Monteith Taylor," and then, after I'd lived in Oak Bay for a year or two, hyphenating the last two words. I let the idea drop because I might have to print the byline in smaller type and trat would never do at all.

Letter from London

Extra Pay Isn't Everything

By RICHARD L. THOMAS, Daily Colonist Correspondent

NATIONAL health service doctors in Britain have thought again about the proposed national walk-out by degrees. It looks as though government concessions have at least postponed the evil day and may have obviated it altogether, as the royal commission appointed to inquire into conditions of service may be expected to make recommendations acceptable to both sides.

Meanwhile the government has made an interim improvement which, although far from what the doctors have demanded, is enough to prevent the gradual snowball plan for resignations from the service. The general capitation fee for each registered patient has been increased to the equivalent of $2.30 per annum. In addition there is another 30c per head for the thousand patients between 501 and 1,500 on a doctor's list, which will help medicos with a comparatively small number of patients but who still have to provide the same facilities as a doctor with a larger number.

Supplementary allowances under which doctors receive certain basic minimum salaries have been increased by 20 per cent, which means that no doctor even in the most remote rural areas with a very small list of patients will receive less than $2,000 a year, plus car expenses and dispensing fees if he provides his own medicine. It is recognized that this minimum is inadequate, but it represents a considerable improvement on the present system, which was based primarily on income to be derived from big lists. Additional payments will also be available to doctors establishing a practice in areas where there are no doctors or which are inadequately doctored.

These increases are to be handed on to the public in the form of increased payments for the national health service starting in September. It is also probable that there will be added restrictions on non-residents obtaining the benefits of the service.

It is difficult to assess completely the cost of treatment of foreign nationals and dominion visitors who make no contribution to the service. There have been a few cases recorded where Americans faced with a series of operations for a serious complaint and prolonged hospitalization have come to Britain for treatment and found that the cost of transportation has been considerably less than the cost of medical treatment. In the case of visitors from the continent the difference is even more pronounced. It is likely that facilities for visitors under the national health scheme will at least be cut to emergency treatment. It is recognized that it will be difficult to draw a line of demarkation.

The present Conservative government would much prefer to have a health scheme to which patients made some direct contributions to treatment. It has been suggested, for example, that the patient should be responsible to the doctor for the equivalent of 60 cents a consultation, but political hostility to the idea deters them. Until two years ago dental and optical treatment was free; then a minimum charge was introduced under which the patient had to pay the first $2.70 of the charge. At the beginning all prescriptions were free; now there is the equivalent of a 13 cent fee for each item.

In all these cases old age pensioners and persons in destitute circumstances may obtain a refund of the fee from the National Assistance Board—the instrument of state charity which is not accessible to visitors. It is also possible to cover the costs by private insurance.

The government has been caught between the upper and nether millstones of the doctor's demands for adequate remuneration and the public's unwillingness to pay for what has been regarded as a free national service. Fear of political implications is what deters the government, though it is moving slowly in the direction of a contributory health scheme which in the end may be self-supporting. At the present time it involves the exchequer in an annual cost of more than $1,000,000,000, and it is recognized that much of this is spent unnecessarily upon people who are not really ill but make demands on the service merely because it is "free." In fact it is exceedingly expensive to taxpayers.

Doctors themselves are still very worried about the standards of practice. The average time a doctor spends with a patient at a consultation is about three minutes, which permits only minimum diagnosis and treatment. Difficult cases are disposed of by referring to specialists with the result that general medical practice has deteriorated into a sort of clearing house in which patients are referred to specialists and hospitals or else treated with pep pills, tranquilizers and sleeping pills.

The general practitioner instead of being a family confident with a personal interest in his patients is becoming a high-speed diagnostician with an ability to fill in forms and certificates with alacrity. Instead of developing an interest in a case his main concern is to refer it to someone else as soon as possible.

The fact that the national health service has worked as well as it has is largely due to the fact that underpaid doctors have in fact been remarkably conscientious and overworked themselves considerably. Their best efforts are frequently baulked by the number of patients with trivial complaints who, if they had to pay, would not dream of taking them to a doctor.

Increases in doctors' pay will not remedy these defects and the increase in health contributions is, in the opinion of some doctors, likely to increase the demands on doctors by those determined to "get what they pay for"—even if it is only a bandage for little Willie's cut finger.

Just a Slap on the Wrist

(From The Edmonton Journal)

IN the supreme court at Red Deer the maximum fine of $500 was imposed on a driver who struck and fatally injured a pedestrian on the highway and then fled from the scene. The judge suspended the driver's license for eight months.

When a man can go to jail for two years for the theft of an article worth less than $50, by what possible legal logic can so shocking a crime as abandoning a fatally-injured man to escape prosecution be punishable merely by a licence suspension and a maxium fine of $500 with the alternative of a maximum jail sentence of six months?

Such a driver's licence should not be suspended; it should be cancelled for life.

The Packsack

Of GREGORY CLARK

THERE is an ancient saying, "Never lend money to a friend, for then you lose both."

A wealthy old boy of my acquaintance has given this a special twist.

"The best way to get rid of tiresome people is to lend them money," he says. "For instance, how did I know I was going, to be well off? You make friends, when you are young, with some people who turn out to be so different from what you thought they would be. I had one bosom friend in my twenties who, in his thirties, joined one of those fanatical small religious sects that became an obsession with him. He was so darn good, and honest, and my friendship for him was so long established, that I didn't know how to deal with him. For he plagued the life out of me, trying to convert me to his faith, which was as deeply obnoxious to my faith as it was precious to him. In due time he became a nuisance. Just a plain nuisance. By sheer good luck he got into difficulties, and I was able, even then, to lend him $1,000. I have hardly seen him since. And that was 25 years ago.

"Take relatives," he said. "Blood is thicker than money, surely. Now, my wife, who turned out to be a bit of a pain in the neck after we were married 20 years or so, can't stand my relatives. Never could. We had one set of relatives who, when I started to make money, rejoiced in coming to stay with us in our first big home. They would stay for a week, two, three weeks. They simply took us over as their fortunate rich relatives. To them it was the most natural thing in the world that they should visit us at regular intervals and have a whale of a time.

"I thought my wife would go crazy. She was going to leave me. Well, I wouldn't want to have to go through all the trouble of finding and adapting myself to any more women; so I was overjoyed when my relatives asked me if I would lend them quite a substantial sum as a down payment on a new house they wanted to buy. You bet I would.

"That was the last of them, except at family weddings and funerals, of course. They have never been back for a nice long visit. How could they, when they still owe me all the money, plus interest, of which my bank keeps reminding them, periodically, as a matter of mere routine."

A cold-blooded old man? Not at all. There are few of us who haven't got acquaintances we would like to be able to lend $1,000 to.

Letters to the Editor

Fascist Movement

We were warned in your editorial of June 14 that the National Youth Club, Victoria Branch, in some respects appears to be embarking on a dangerous and illegal venture and might result in the setting up of groups of petty tyrants.

Will this venture turn out like the Hitler "Youth Movement?" According to reports the club's spokesman urged the city to turn over Thetis Lake Park to the club on a 99-year lease. Although its constitution states that its "object shall be the increase and the diffusion of knowledge among its members," this seems to be rather misleading, as it proposes to give more attention to sports, and such activities as a drag strip, than it does to education.

If the club wishes to gain the confidence of the public the constitution should be drastically revised. For instance, although it is supposed to be a youth movement its constitution provides that the association and members "shall operate under the direct control of the adult supervisory manager, who shall have the right to appoint a supervisory board of directors, consisting of six adults."

The members, once having signed, can no longer claim that they are not members of any "fascist" organization, for this youth club, as now constituted, is just that.

Federal Coalition

Under the peculiar circumstances of the recent federal election, and in the interests of good government at this most important time in the history of Canada and of the world, would it not be possible for the Conservative and Social Credit parties to get together in some sort of coalition for the common good.

Social Credit is more closely related to the Conservatives than to the Liberals; and, at present anyway, have little hope of implementing their monetary theories. Nor could they do so unless or until they became strong enough to form a government themselves. Meanwhile a working agreement should be possible, whereby they would support the Conservative government in all worth-while legislation.

In the event of a new election, which it might be necessary to call quite soon, they would co-operate with the Conservatives, both parties agreeing to refrain from opposing the other in constituencies at present held by one or the other. Such an agreement would give all lovers of free enterprise a chance to elect and support a government which ought to be the strongest possible, in view of the present uneasy and dangerous world situation.

Profit from Waste

With reference to a news item in the Daily Colonist of June 23, about conditions on the waterfront along Dallas Road, I wish to draw to the attention of the property owners of Greater Victoria that other cities have overcome this garbage disposal problem, not just by a garbage fill in a residential district but in a businesslike manner, by turning the municipal waste into a fertilizer which can be disposed of to the Island farmers and gardeners.

The city of McKeesport, Pa., has a population of 50,000, deliver about 65 tons of municipal wastes per to day to a plant operated by the Organic Corporation of America, a plant which cost about $250,000 and is capable of handling 150 tons per day. The product which they manufacture is sold at $3.98 per 80 lb. bag, and they produce two pounds per capita per day. The garbage does not have to be separated and is delivered by the city. Surely Greater Victoria could investigate and get some form of garbage disposal like they have in McKeesport instead of dumping it at sea to be washed back by the wind and tide unto our beaches and clean up this unsightly and unsanitary condition.

Silly Bickering

I have read with interest letters in your newspaper discussing the need of a Canadian flag. I am afraid I do not agree with their attitude.

Why a host of different flags to represent the British Commonwealth of Nations. Surely the Union Jack should be as comprehensive as the Hammer and Sickle. If Canada wished as a distinctive mark to embody a maple leaf in the centre to show our independence, that ought to suffice.

The sooner this silly bickering is ended it will be better for Canada's common good. Remember the Communist is at our door chuckling over our disputes. United we stand, divided we fall—maybe as a satellite state to Moscow, who are only too willing to reap the harvest.

Purse Picked By Propeller

CHICAGO (UP)—An airplane propeller picked a woman's pocketbook of $125 yesterday. She was seeing her daughter off on a honeymoon flight and had brought along a $200 "nest egg" as a present.

The plane started up, the woman dashed excitedly after it, and the propellers' backwash flipped open her purse. Airport workers managed to find $75. The woman fainted and left the airport without even giving her name.

LONDON (AP) — The United States Tuesday proposed cuts in U.S. and Soviet armed forces to 1,700,000 men each if the world political climate improves. In immediate reaction Russia was noncommittal.

There are about 2,800,000 men in the U.S. armed forces. The best estimate of Soviet military manpower is 4,750,000.

U.S. delegate Harold E. Stassen told the UN disarmament sub-committee the manpower reductions could take place in three stages.

As outlined to the sub-committee last Thursday, Stassen said the United States would agree immediately and without conditions to bring U.S. and Soviet armed forces down to 2,500,000 men each.

Then he unfolded for the first time the second and third stages. Each country would cut forces to 2,100,000 as a second step and to 1,700,000 as a third step, he said. But neither step could be taken without progress in settling such chronic problems as reunification of Germany.

Britain and France agreed to reduce their forces to 750,000 in the first stage and to 700,000 and 650,000 men in the second and third.

Life Begins Again At 40 for Actress

NEW YORK (UP)—Frances Farmer, the actress whose drinking and temperament landed her in a mental institution 14 years ago, returned to the scene of her first success yesterday to start all over again. Now 43 but still blonde and beautiful, she flew here from her job as a $57-a-week San Francisco hotel clerk to prepare for an appearance on the Ed Sullivan Show Sunday night.

Export Gas Leads Rally At Toronto

TORONTO (CP)—The stock market bounced out of its six-day slump Tuesday as many issues recovered their losses.

Industrials were led by Shawinigan Power, up 2¼, B-A Oil, Aluminium and Power Corp. recorded gains ranging from 1½ to two points. Algoma lost a point.

Uraniums sparked the mining section near the close as Consolidated Denison gained 1½ and Gunnar ⅝.

Canadian Export Gas recorded the highest gain among lower-priced western oils—65 cents. Higher priced issues moved narrowly ahead, but the section was predominately irregular. Commoll lost 35 cents.

Inco in Demand

MONTREAL (CP) — The Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges closed in an irregularly mixed tone Tuesday with price movements ranging to more than two points.

In a firm base metals section, International Nickel was up 2 and Aluminium was ahead 1½ while Noranda slipped ½.

Inter-Provincial Pipe Lines dipped ½ while Trans-Mountain dropped 3. Canadian Oil gained a point while B.A. was up ¾.

Mines and oils gave ground. Canadian Oil was down 30 cents and Canadian Devonian lost 20 while Baker Talc, Copper Rand and Eastern Sullivan each slipped 10 cents. Central Rel Rio added 10 cents and Chib Jaculet was up 8 cents.

All-Round Advance

—NEW YORK (UP)— Stocks rallied after five sessions of decline.

The recovery restored about one third of the five-day losses. All sections participated in the rise although there was only a moderate rise in volume.

Best prices set about mid-session eroded somewhat by later profit-taking although the general list held gains ranging to more than 2 points.

Chemicals generally moved higher. So did the oils. Steels enjoyed a good market that carried Lukens to a new high. Rails joined the rise as did the recently weak utilities. Metals, aircrafts, drugs, airlines, glass issues, aluminums, and electronics issues registered gains running from fractions to more than 2 points.

London Stock Prices

LONDON (Reuters)—Stocks lost ground in early trading but later steadied. Losses on Wall Street and weakness of government securities were blamed for the trend.

Gilt-edged securities recorded losses up to three-eighths. Dominion and colonial stocks eased in sympathy.

Dollar stocks reflected the lower trans-Atlantic values.

Hudson's Bay was firm on a plan to offer shares in the Hudson Bay Oil Company. Oils moved erratically.

Grain Prices

WINNIPEG (CP) — Best commercial interest was in barley, where trade reports indicated a cargo sold to the Republic of Ireland and parcel lots to the United Kingdom, and possibly more business developing.

Overnight export wheat loading includes: West Germany 500,000 bushels, Japan 325,000 and the United Kingdom 235,000.

Elevator hedges and selling attributed to American interests contributed to an irregular tone in flax prices. Commercial demand was thin in flax. Rye moved narrowly on lack of good demand.

CHICAGO (AP)—Reports of good export business steadied wheat futures but other grains were around a cent or more lower most of the time.

Large exports in wheat and soybeans, with more in the offing, offset early profit taking influenced by a return of clear weather in the southwest.

City Man Gets Letter

Mayflower II Brings Mail

An envelope of more than passing interest reached the home of a Victoria man the other day.

Ross, 937 Foul Bay Road, was a letter from friends in Devon —brought across the Atlantic in the Mayflower II, replica of the original Puritans' vessel.

The envelope, specially prepared for this journey, bears an engraving on one side of the Mayflower under sail, with the words "Mayflower Ship's Mail."

Mayflower II left Southampton in April, and the postmark cancelling the stamp is dated April-July, 1957. Around the outside of the postmark is printed "Mayflower II Maiden Voyage."

Arrival postmark is dated June 13, 1 p.m., 1957, at Plymouth, Mass. The cancellation notes again "Arrival of Mayflower II, Plymouth Massachusetts, 1957."

A separate card within the envelope reproduces the original Mayflower compact under which the Puritan Fathers sailed from England in 1620 for "ye Northerne parts of Virginia," and lists the signers of that compact.

Below is the signature of Alan Villiers, master of the Mayflower II.

The letter itself is from a family friend of the Ross', Mrs. Muriel Gillmore of Totnes, Devon.

"I am sending this letter," the note begins, "by Mayflower II. Trust it reaches you safely. . . ."

Man Admits Cheque Guilt, Asks Chance to Pay Back

Plea of guilty on each of four charges of false pretences was entered in city police court yesterday by [illegible] no fixed address.

Each charge involved a cheque drawn against the Imperial Bank, Yates and Government, and presented at the Hudson's Bay Co. store. On two, for $12 and $10, accused obtained cash; on the others, for $10 and $6.05, he obtained goods.

Accused, who said he had been drinking and couldn't say much about what had happened, said if he could get the chance he would like to make restitution.

A suspended sentence was granted by Magistrate Henry C. Hall to Donald George Drew, no fixed address, also charged with false pretences involving less than $50.

Magistrate Hall told the youthful Drew that he had been drifting lately at "a very important age in your life, and going down and down." He said accused should get steady occupation, and would be given a chance to do so.

Drew was placed under $500 bond, and ordered to report monthly to a probation officer for six months.

Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain Or Discomfort

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—
Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching. Thousands have been relieved with this inexpensive substance right in the privacy of their own home without any discomfort or inconvenience.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was promptly relieved. And while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of even 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — the discovery of a famous scientific institute. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Most Completely Changed Buick in History!

TAKE a look at that panel, and listen to the big news:

Every feature, described here, never existed until the '57 Buick was built. Every feature—and these are just some of the major ones—is totally new in the '57 Buick.

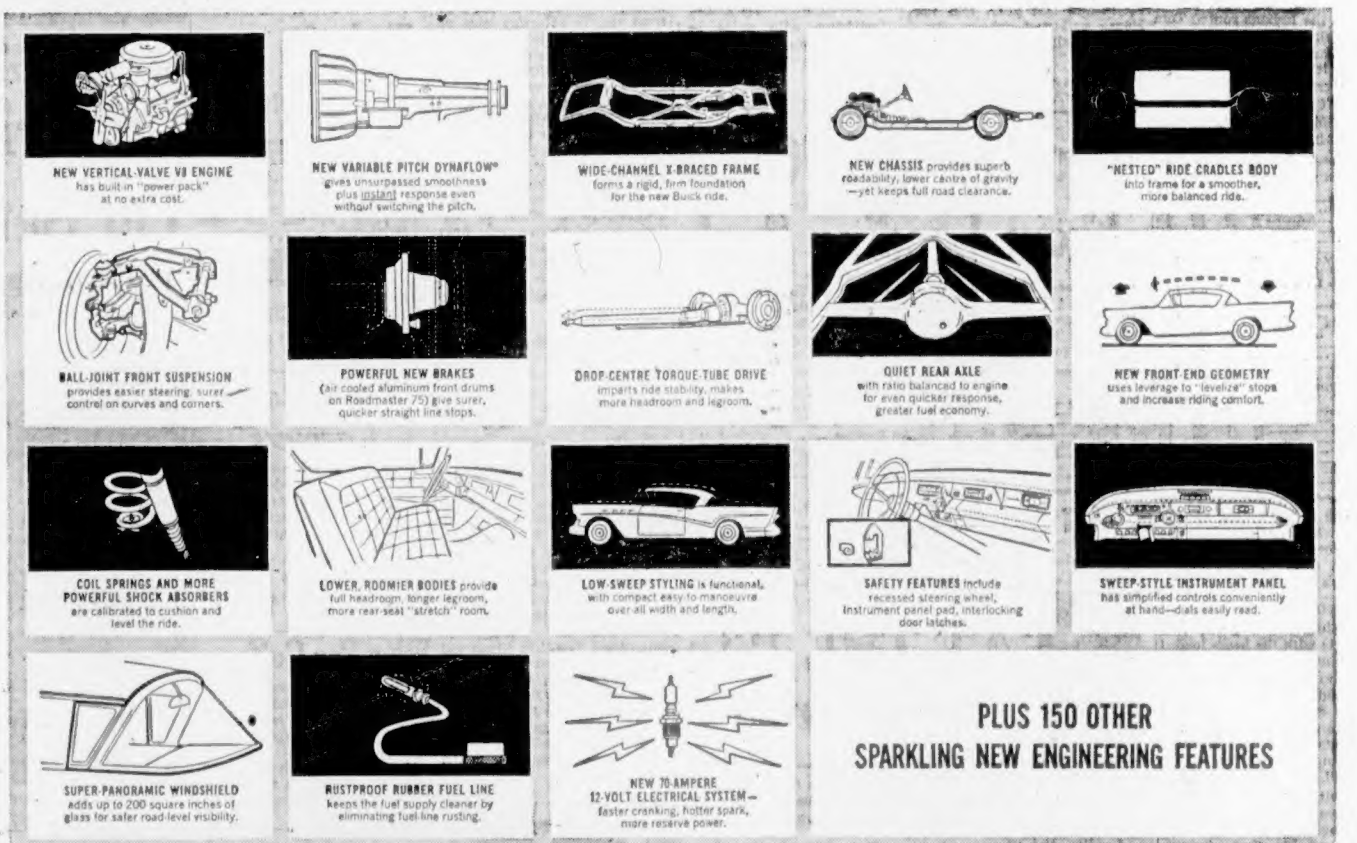
But what's most completely changed is the performance of this great Buick.

It's a car that drives and rides and brakes and steers and handles like no other car you ever knew before.

No words we can say will make you feel what's here. You must take the wheel and learn what happens when you and this '57 Buick come alive together. So drop in this week. A wonderful new experience is waiting for you.

New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest cost on the Special.*

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE



NEW VERTICAL-VALVE V8 ENGINE has built-in "power pack" at no extra cost.
NEW VARIABLE PITCH DYNAFLOW* gives unsurpassed smoothness plus instant response even without switching the pitch.
WIDE-CHANNEL X-BRACED FRAME forms a rigid, firm foundation for the new Buick ride.
NEW CHASSIS provides superb roadability, lower centre of gravity —yet keeps full road clearance.
"NESTED" RIDE CRADLES BODY into frame for a smoother, more balanced ride.
BALL-JOINT FRONT SUSPENSION provides easier steering, surer control on curves and corners.
POWERFUL NEW BRAKES (air-cooled aluminum front drums on Roadmaster 75) give surer, quicker straight line stops.
DROP-CENTRE TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE imparts ride stability, makes more headroom and legroom.
QUIET REAR AXLE with ratio balanced to engine for even quicker response, greater fuel economy.
NEW FRONT-END GEOMETRY uses leverage to "levelize" stops and increase riding comfort.
COIL SPRINGS AND MORE POWERFUL SHOCK ABSORBERS are calibrated to cushion and level the ride.
LOWER, ROOMIER BODIES provide full headroom, longer legroom, more rear-seat "stretch" room.
LOW-SWEEP STYLING is functional, with compact easy-to-manoeuvre overall width and length.
SAFETY FEATURES include recessed steering wheel, instrument panel pad, interlocking door latches.
SWEEP-STYLE INSTRUMENT PANEL has simplified controls conveniently at hand—dials easily read.
SUPER-PANORAMIC WINDSHIELD adds up to 200 square inches of glass for safer road-level visibility.
RUSTPROOF RUBBER FUEL LINE keeps the fuel supply cleaner by eliminating fuel-line rusting.
NEW 70-AMPERE 12-VOLT ELECTRICAL SYSTEM— faster cranking, hotter spark, more reserve power.
PLUS 150 OTHER SPARKLING NEW ENGINEERING FEATURES

Sox Nab Lead From Yanks; Reds Move Up

Chicago's White Sox reclaimed the American League lead Tuesday night, cutting Boston's winning streak at six games 2-1 while Cleveland plunked the New York Yankees, 11-2.

In the National League, Cincinnati closed to within five percentage points of the idle first-place St. Louis Cardinals with a 3-2 victory over the New York Giants.

The Philadelphia Phillies, also idle, moved to third, 1½ games behind, as the fifth-place Brooklyn Dodgers skidded Milwaukee to fourth with a 2-0 win on rookie Danny McDevitt's four-hitter.

Chicago's Cubs quit the cellar, dropping Pittsburgh in, with a 5-3 decision over the Pirates.

TIGERS FOURTH

Detroit regained a full share of fourth place in the American League, coming from four runs back to beat Washington 7-4 in 10 innings. And Baltimore beat Kansas City 3-0 on the three-hit pitching of Billy Loes, who won his eighth.

Walt Dropo's towering two-run homer hoisted the White Sox back into the lead, breaking a scoreless duel between Boston's young Dave Sisler and veteran righthander Bob Keegan.

DROPO'S NINTH

The White Sox, who had lost first place in New York over the weekend, had just three hits off Sisler until the seventh, when Larry Doby singled ahead of Dropo's ninth home run—one more than he hit all last year.

Rookies Russ Nixon and Roger Maris each drove in two runs as the Indians routed Tom Sturdivant with a 6-2 lead in three frames. Rocky Colavito capped it with his first major league grand-slam homer in the ninth off Al Cicotte.

Don Mossi won his fifth with an eight-hitter. It was the worst whipping of the season for the Yanks, who now have lost two in a row after winning 10 straight. Cleveland, 4½ games back, has won four in a row.

KLU DELIVERS

Ted Kluszewski's pinch two-out single with the bases loaded in the ninth won it for the Redlegs, who had deadlocked the Giants on two home runs by Smokey Burgess. Brooks Lawrence won his eighth, allowing the Giants only four hits, one a first-inning home run by Danny O'Connell.

McDevitt, a 24-year-old southpaw, gave the Braves no more than singles in gaining a 2-1 record and his first shutout. Duke Snider poled his 15th home run—the third in two days—in the first inning.

MAXWELL STARS

The Tigers cut Washington's lead on Charlie Maxwell's two home runs, then tied it in the ninth on Red Wilson's single. J. W. Porter led off the 10th with a pinch single, followed by Bill Tuttle's winning single and doubles of Al Kaline and Wilson.

Loes, who was given a $1,000 raise earlier in the day by the Orioles, retired the first 16 men he faced.

Former Cleveland Indians' strikeout king and now president of the Professional Baseball Players' Association, Bob Feller yesterday blasted team owners as "arrogant" and said they regard players as "pawns." Here, Feller talks with association vice-president Stan Musial, right, after testifying before a House committee.—(AP Photofax.)

Speaking Briefly

Average Players 'Pawns' To Owners, Feller Charges

Bob Feller, the former strikeout king of Cleveland Indians, aimed verbal fireballs at baseball club owners Tuesday by charging them with being "arrogant" at times and considering journeymen players as nothing more than "pawns."

Feller, who blazed new strikeout records into the books before he retired last year, told the House anti-trust subcommittee that baseball employers need to change their outlook or they will "surely hurt" the game.

Testifying with poise and speed to match his pitching style, Feller declared baseball should be placed under the anti-trust and Taft-Hartley laws because "baseball is a business."

Some of the charges he hurled in connection with the major league pension plan drew an expression of "shock and surprise" from Will Harridge, president of the American League.

Feller, president of the Professional Players' Association, said he felt no animosity toward club owners but believed "their attitude, if permitted to continue, would more surely hurt baseball than would its coverage under the anti-trust laws."

He said "much of government's supervision" would benefit this sport.

Mounties Only Game From Leading Seals

Vancouver Mounties, who have stayed close to the top despite a recent slump, moved back to within a single game of first place in the Pacific Coast Baseball League last night, coming through in the late innings to down Portland Beavers, 7-2, in their series opener.

Meanwhile, the first-place San Francisco Seals opened their series with the sizzling Los Angeles Angels and were beaten, 8-5. The Seals played the game under protest.

AT THE 19th

With Harry Young

This weekend's chief golfing event is the Cowichan Open, to be played over the attractive nine-hole course at Duncan on Monday. A strong entry of Island and mainland players has been secured.

Leading the Victoria players will be Bill McColl, winner two years ago, and Laurie Kerr, the present city champion.

Both these players have records which keep them in line for places on the B.C. Willingdon Cup team, so that the incentive to do well at Cowichan is definitely there.

Indeed the Cowichan Open and the B.C. closed championship next month in Vancouver could go a long way to deciding if Vancouver Island is this year to have a representative or not on the provincial team.

As an interesting pre-tournament attraction the Cowichan club this year is inviting competitors and members to attend a Sunday afternoon golf clinic at which Island and mainland professionals are expected to take part. The clinic starts at 3 p.m., and should be useful to the younger players in the Duncan area.

In the leading match Doc Bigelow of Oak Bay beat Bill McColl and Jim Barry of the host club lost to Vic Painter, and the Colwood pair took the team match.

However, the sting was in the Victoria club tail. They eventually took the foursomes by 5-3 and the singles by 12-4.

Port Angeles golfers bring a lead of 26 points to 18 to Victoria Sunday for their return match with Gorge Vale.

Surging Rocks Defeat Pils, Host Salmonbellies Tonight

Victoria Shamrocks, finally on the move, pulled into their biggest Inter-City Lacrosse League lead of the season at Vancouver last night, and the surging Irish will be trying to stretch it even farther tonight when they host New Westminster Salmonbellies at Memorial Arena.

The Rocks, again led by starry Jack Bionda, made it four straight victories by blasting the Vancouver Pilseners, 15-11, at Kerrisdale Arena in one of their best displays of power this season.

The Rocks had plenty of trouble in the opening half, holding a 4-3 lead at the end of the first quarter and a 9-8 half-time edge. But the visitors started to move in the third period and were never headed after opening up a three-goal [illegible] rocks can move eight points ahead tonight with a win over

SECOND LINE CLICKS

While Bionda and line-mates Bob Dobbie and Pee Wee Brailshaw continued their sparkling play last night, it was the Rocks' second line of Don Sherry, Ed Kowalyk and Al Gill which came through in fine style.

Sherry, the league's second high goal scorer last season, had one of his best nights for the Rocks with a three-goal effort. Kowalyk, who was a standout at Nanaimo Saturday with two goals and an assist, whipped in three goals and added an assist last night while Gill hustled hard for his mates and contributed an assist.

Bionda again was high scorer for the game with five points. The Victoria forward picked up four goals and now boasts 45 goals and 22 assists in the 16 games he has played.

Geordie Johnston blocked 17 Vancouver shots, including seven in the third quarter. Norm Lee, subbing for the injured Dave Unwin in the Pilsner nets, blocked 20 shots in the action-packed contest.

The Rocks used juniors Ross Rosskamp and Jackie Showers last night in place of the injured Bert Bertoia and the ailing Al Davies, and Severson dressed for the game. It was not known whether he saw any action.

Wins Par Golf

Mrs. S. A. Maddocks won the "A" division of a monthly par competition at the Victoria Golf Club yesterday by finishing all square.

Mrs. W. B. Leach took "B" division honors, 5 up, while Mrs. R. O. Alexander won the "C" division, 6 up.

Blazing Finish Wins For Margaret Todd

VANCOUVER—Mrs. Margaret Todd and Mrs. H. J. Mearns, the only two Victoria golfers who qualified for championship play in the annual B.C. women's golf tournament here Monday, both chalked up hard-fought victories at Capilano Tuesday.

Mrs. Todd, eight-time Victoria champion who lead the 16 qualifiers with an 82, staged an amazing comeback to edge Mrs. A. Gregory of the host club on the 18th green. Mrs. Mearns, fifth among the qualifiers, moved into the second round with a 2 and 1 victory over Mrs. J. S. McVicar.

Mrs. Todd, a leading contender for the B.C. inter-provincial team, was three down with four holes remaining against Mrs. Gregory. But the Victoria club member recovered from her shaky play and won the last four holes to cap the thrilling comeback.

Mrs. Todd meets Mrs. J. Campbell of Vancouver in today's second round while Mrs. Mearns will play Mrs. D. Heritage.

Mrs. Brice Evans of Capilano scored yesterday's biggest upset when she ousted Mrs. G. Garnett of Point Grey, 8 and 7. Mrs. Garnett, the Vancouver City champion, was runner-up to Mrs. Todd in the qualifying round and was also a strong contender for a place on the B.C. team.

Other first-round winners yesterday were Mrs. H. Cleat, who defeated Mrs. Hutton-Potts, 4 and 3; Mrs. J. Dodds, and Mrs. H. McCrannor.

Glittering Talent List Grows For Saturday's Track Meet

Another name was added last night to the growing list of top-notch talent lined up for the annual YMCA Vancouver Island track and field meet Saturday at the Victoria High School track.

Doug Clement, captain of the Canadian Olympic track team and probably Canada's foremost half-miler, informed YMCA coach Bob Hutchison by telephone last night that he will be in Victoria for the meet.

Clement is expected to enter the open half mile race and perhaps the quarter-mile. Clement beat Jack Larsen of the University of Washington in a meet in Kelowna last week. Larsen is one of the most highly-regarded entries in the championships.

A total of 25 events are scheduled for Saturday's meet, with most of the interest centred around two races, the 100-yard dash and the mile relay.

The 100 will bring together Trinidad's flashy Mike Agostini, Terry Tobacco, the Cumberland ace now running for University of Washington, and Ray Duncan of Seattle Pacific University, who won the Evergreen Conference title for the 100-yard dash in 9.7 seconds.

Agostini won two races in the Kelowna meet, and is now working out in Vancouver in preparation for the championships. Two other threats for the sprints are Chris Sievers of University of Washington who was runner-up by a step in both races, and Raphael Duke of the YMCA club, who finished third.

The YMCA relay team, according to all reports, stands a good chance of breaking the Canadian mile record of 3:22.2, which is held by the YMCA. Hutchison has Dave Taylor, a highly-regarded newcomer from UBC, starting off, followed by former high school whiz Joe Haegert and Pete Napper, with Tobacco at anchor.

About 100 athletes from all parts of B.C. and Washington have signed up for the meet, which will feature 16 races and nine field events.

Also on the strong University of Washington team is Jack Larsen, who will enter the mile and half-mile. Larsen has run the half-mile in 1.52.9, and his mark of 4.15 was the second fastest run by a college freshman in the United States this year.

WOMEN STARS

In the women's events, three names stand out. They are Sue Burnett, of Victoria and Ann Reid and Freyda Berman of Vancouver. Miss Burnett and Miss Reid will continue last year's rivalry in the 100 and 220. Miss Reid, who was runner-up to Miss Burnett in the 220 last year, has shown great improvement in the event since, and won the women's northwest AAU title in 25.6 seconds recently.

Miss Berman, only 15 years old, is being touted as one of the future great Canadian sprinters. She won the Vancouver junior high school 100-yard dash last month in 11.4 seconds, tying the Canadian women's record.

The pole vault is expected to be the closest of the field events, with a battle shaping up between Cliff Labounty of University of Washington and Bob Reid of Vancouver, who have both been topping 14 feet consistently.

Fletchers moved a step nearer the Senior "B" Men's Softball League record for consecutive victories last night, chalking up their 10th straight with a 10-4 win over Navy at Heywood Avenue Park.

The win moved the clothiers three games in front of idle Firefights in the league standings. Fletchers need three more wins to tie the league record of 13 set by the old Tillicums club.

Jerry Stillson pitched a six-hitter against Navy, and also hit a single and a double.

HOTELMEN WIN

Gorge Hotel continued its march toward another city Senior "A" Men's Softball League crown at Central Park last night, thumping second-place Half Way House, 12-2, in a game called at the end of six innings because of rain.

Dave Price gave up eight hits in collecting his fifth win in seven starts.

Vicettes, who swept both games of an exhibition double-header from Port Angeles Blue Angels, 5-2 and 10-9, on Sunday, scored another upset at lower Central Park last night, defeating Polyettes senior "A" club, 7-4.

Nita Wood pitched a four-hitter, Gail Lajeunesse hit a triple and a pair of singles, and Jackie Aplin picked up two triples for Vicettes.

Fishing Improves For Ladder Derby

Fishing continued to show marked improvement yesterday, and 11 anglers claimed rungs on the sixth-week qualifying ladder of the annual Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association ladder derby.

In one of the best starts in recent weeks, 14 fish have been weighed in for the competition after two days' fishing, leaving 36 rungs open.

Don McLean took over the third rung with a 16-pound, eight-ounce salmon, and A. F. Mar placed fourth on the list with a 13-pound, four-ounce fish. Both fish were caught at the Goldstream end.

One-Hit Pitching Highlights Action In Minor Leagues

A pair of one-hit pitching performances, one of them in a losing cause, highlighted last night's action in the Greater Victoria minor baseball leagues.

Peter Baines gave up a double in the first inning to Bobby Watson, then blanked Foresters the rest of the way while Dodgers won their seventh straight game in the Esquimalt Vic West Little League second half, 17-1.

Neil Worboys gave up one hit in six innings of relief for Rotary, but the effort wasn't enough to stop Jaycees, who won their ninth Pony League game in 10 starts, 5-3.

Sidney Angler . . . New Leader in Coho Division . . . Claims Top Spot

New leader in the coho division of The Daily Colonist King Fisherman contest is R. A. Gile of The Latch, Sidney, who pulled out an eight-pound, six-ouncer on Strip Teaser near Fairfax Point on Sunday.

It is certain his lead will soon be beaten, but as of now he stands to win both the coho trophy and the three-horse power Viking outboard motor being offered by T. Eaton Co. for the biggest coho caught by a Colonist subscriber.

Lower Island fishing waters all are producing fish with Oak Bay still giving up the heavy springs. Both Brentwood and the Goldstream ends of Saanich Inlet are producing good numbers of springs weighing over the five-pound limit required to enter the King Fisherman contest.

Recent weigh-ins:

No Coalition, Says Low

Tories to Get Socred Help In Parliament

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker and his new Progressive Conservative government can look for Social Credit support in Parliament.

This attitude was apparent in Social Credit Leader Solon Low Tuesday when he said in an interview: "We will do our best to help maintain the stability of government until it is time for another election."

TAKE A YEAR

When that would be depended on how long Canadians felt it necessary to size up the new government. Mr. Low said he thought that would take a year, possibly more.

The June 10 election left Social Credit and the CCF in a position of influence they have never enjoyed before.

He said he was disappointed but not discouraged with his party's showing in the election. Social Credit candidates had done well in Alberta. He was not too disappointed with the result in Ontario and already had met with party supporters in the central province who were going to "sustain their drive."

SOME DISAPPOINTMENT

He had been disappointed by the number of Social Credit members elected in British Columbia and had thought some would win in Saskatchewan and Manitoba. But the party would be in the thick of another election campaign again.

As for the possibility of Social Credit coalescing with the Conservatives, Mr. Low said: "We don't believe that coalitions are wise except in very extreme situations, such as wartime."

Malaya Turns To Canada For VIP Cars

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (UP)—Most of the 60 automobiles the Federation of Malaya government will use to carry VIPs coming for the Independence Celebrations will be bought in Canada.

A government spokesman said the Federation government plans to buy 60 new cars to provide transportation for official guests during the Independence Celebrations which start Aug. 31.

British cars were not chosen because those with sufficient legroom were too expensive and hard to resell.

The spokesman said: "However, we want to keep our purchases within the Commonwealth."

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) —President Eisenhower Monday night challenged the States to open the way for federal tax cuts by taking over some costly programs now financed wholly or partly by the federal government.

George Drew Named Commissioner to U.K.

LONDON (BUP)—George Drew, former leader of the Canadian Conservative party and premier of Ontario, yesterday was appointed high commissioner to London, to succeed Norman Robertson.

The appointment will become effective Aug. 1.

Robertson, a career diplomat, has been appointed Canadian envoy to Washington.

Prime Minister John Diefenbaker announced the appointment here, where he is preparing for the Commonwealth prime ministers' conference which opens Thursday.

Mr. Diefenbaker said he was satisfied that Drew's health is now "completely restored."

In Ottawa, Drew commented on the posting. He said he had "extensive contacts" in the United Kingdom, made while he was trying to encourage British industry and British immigrants to settle in Ontario, when he was premier of Ontario from 1943 to 1948.

Mr. Diefenbaker told a news conference he could think of "no one who will be able to do a better job" in Britain than Drew.

The 63-year-old Drew retired from the Tory leadership because of ill health.

He said he believed that boosting Anglo-Canadian trade, and Canadian trade generally with other Commonwealth countries, would be his first order of business when he arrives in London.

Cabinet Removes Mining Reserve

A mining reserve at Sayward, Campbell Lake, and Texada Island have been removed by the provincial cabinet after surveys have shown the prospect of developing iron ore in the area is poor.

The reserve was placed on the areas earlier this year.

FORD'S BIG LUXURY ECONOMY "6" comes to NATIONAL MOTORS!

Gives up to 27 miles per gallon

In outward appearance, it's identical to the Big Fashionable V-8's. Same advanced styling— sleek low lines—sturdy construction. In the recent Mobile Gas Economy Run, this Sensational New Economy Ford outperformed all other American 6's with an average of 27 miles per gallon.

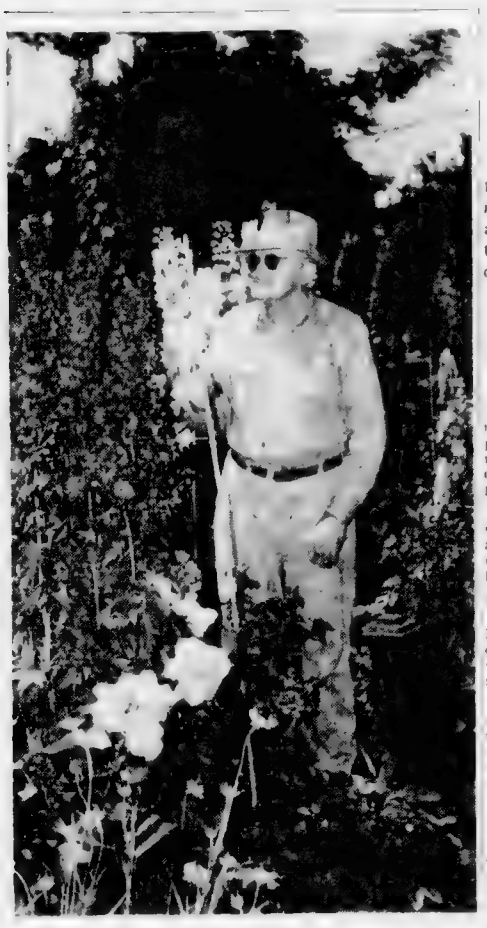
Bennett Making Last-Ditch Try To Avert Strike



Conference Called For Friday

Premier Bennett takes on the role of top-level peace-maker Friday in a last-ditch attempt to stave off a threatened strike of 34,000 coast woodworkers.

A parley between industry and workers has been arranged, at his request, in his office at 11 a.m. Friday—a time arranged, as events turned out, through The Daily Colonist.

A move came as the International Woodworkers of America prepared for a strike vote today that could cripple B.C.'s $300,000,000 industry within 48 hours.

"I have every hope that both sides will come to an agreement and that there will be no closure in the forest industries," Premier Bennett said yesterday.

INVITATION BY WIRE

Both IWA president Joe Morris and I. M. Billings, head of Forest Industrial Relations which represents the operators, received telegrams which read:

"I would be pleased to have your appropriate officials meet with me in Victoria concerning negotiations affecting the lumber industry." A Thursday meeting was called for.

The forest operators accepted the Thursday invitation, but Mr. Morris said he couldn't make it Thursday and hoped the premier would propose an alternate day, possibly Friday.

He said he had sent a telegram to this effect to Mr. Bennett.

Mr. Bennett was reached by The Daily Colonist last night at Campbell River, where he was officiating today at the opening of the Ladore Falls Station of the B.C. Power Commission.

FRIDAY ALL RIGHT

He said that "if it is impossible for either side to meet on Thursday, I will be willing to meet them at 11 a.m. Friday."

"That is cabinet time, but for a matter as important as this I shall be glad to miss cabinet," the premier added.

"I am very pleased that both sides are willing to meet with me."

The Colonist called Mr. Billings. "Whatever day suits the premier is fine with us," the industry spokesman said.

Mr. Morris said he expected the union would accept the premier's offer of mediation as quickly as circumstances permit, but he couldn't get to Victoria by Thursday. He had to attend a meeting in Vancouver that day of the IWA district policy committee to receive results of today's government-supervised strike vote.

LAST HOUR TRY

The union must give 48 hours' notice before going on strike after results of a strike vote are completely tallied. So the parley can literally become a last-hour attempt to prevent chaos in the important industry.

Premier Bennett said he did not think his announcement would have any effect on the strike vote.

Chief conciliation officer Gordon Wismer had called for a four-month suspension of negotiations.

The union wants a 25-per-cent wage increase. Employers say market conditions make an immediate increase impossible.

Scouter Cheats Death

NANAIMO (CP) — An unidentified fisherman rescued a Nanaimo Scout leader from drowning in Georgia Strait Tuesday afternoon after the Scouter clung for 15 minutes to his overturned motorboat.

Rescued was John Edward Jabour, 36, service manager for Pacific Propane Ltd.

Mr. Jabour, a Rover Scout leader, was on his way to attend a leadership course at Camp Byng near Gibsons when his 15-foot outboard cruiser struck a deadhead.

The boat, badly holed, filled with water in about four minutes and capsized.

Jabour said he managed to cling to the open cockpit of the craft until help arrived. He said later:

"I'm a good swimmer, but I know I was lucky this time. And that water certainly was cold."

The unidentified fisherman took Jabour aboard and towed the submerged craft back to Nanaimo. He disappeared without leaving his name.

PORT ALBERNI—An early report on investigations regarding a new water supply for the city will be sought by council.

At Monday night's meeting, superintendent Len Crowshaw announced that representatives of Associated Engineers will be in town this week. It was suggested that some information might be available in regards the firm's survey of possible sources.

Mayor Loran Jordon said that he had already eliminated three suggestions because of the expense of development.

NANAIMO—At the request of Nanaimo Recreation Commission the future of the parks board arena and recreation commission will be discussed at an early date by city council.

Earlier this year, Mayor Pete Maffeo suggested that the three bodies be brought under one head. A parks commission which would include the recreation and arena chairmen should be formed, he said. Idea is to prevent overlapping of the three bodies.

DUNCAN — Kiwanians of this city have had a busy week. Thursday they loaded 19 tons of paper for transport to Victoria where it was sold.

The paper was gathered in two drives this year, and the proceeds will go toward the club's school safety patrol. It used to be called the schoolboy patrol, but now there are many girls taking part in the work as well.

Friday night the club took 37 members of the school safety patrol to Victoria for a night out.

ALBERNI—Council is prepared to assure the development within six months of a park site on Somass River, offered to the city by the department of lands subject to work being done on the property.

Representatives of service clubs of the district, with council members, have inspected the proposed park and a meeting has been arranged for July 18.

According to a report given by Ald. Bishop, the property is well suited for a park.

NANAIMO—Request from Victoria Labor Council that its jurisdictional boundary be extended to take in Duncan was not favored by Nanaimo District Labor Council.

Duncan is already within Nanaimo council's jurisdiction and should it be taken over by Victoria the IWA Local 1-80 whose boundaries are at Cobble Hill in the south and Qualicum in the north, would be split so far as membership on labor councils was concerned.

Nanaimo council is to meet Victoria on the question.

PORT ALBERNI—Lack of interest in their work has been noticed in some of the city workmen, it was alleged at council meeting Monday night.

Passing a motion requesting a job steward to police the men, Council agreed that frequent coffee breaks and lengthened lunch hours cannot be tolerated.

The motion of Ald. Jack Perry received unanimous support from other council members.

PORT ALBERNI—[illegible] men [illegible] Labor Council [illegible] Class One Stop [illegible] hours by-law will be [illegible] to cover garages and service stations.

Mayor Loran Jordan faced with a deputation of garage men at Monday night meeting described them as exempting them from provisions of the by-law "we were trying to give you freedom."

It was agreed to set closing hours for Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 6 p.m. Fridays 9 p.m. with the garages permitted to remain open on Sundays and holidays.

NANAIMO—With the exception of one member of the executive, the complete 1956 slate of officers of the B.C. Postmasters' Association was returned Tuesday at the Association conference in Nanaimo.

Bob Reid of Victoria declined to run for a further term, and was replaced by Cloverdale's Ken Patterson. Other officers are: Les Hammer, Port Alberni, president; Bill Plumridge, Langley, vice-president; Fred Brownsey, Sooke, secretary-treasurer.

DUNCAN (CP)—Kenneth Thomas, driver of one of the cars in a three-car collision which killed one person, has been charged with careless driving.

Kenneth Meyer, 16, the driver of one of the cars was killed when it collided with one driven by David Nick.

An inquest will be held Friday.

DUNCAN — At a sanction show held here Saturday by the Cowichan Dog Obedience Training Club BC Walker's English cocker, Flash, as best in show, best in the sporting group and was best puppy in the show.

More than 60 dogs were entered and attracted entries from Courtenay and Victoria.

Judges were M. Lemon of Langford, Mrs. M. Bowsden, and H. Dodds, Victoria.

Group winners were: hounds, Mrs. V. MacLaughlan's miniature dachshund, Remus; sporting dogs, B.C. Walker's Flash; terriers, Mrs. M. Freemantle's West Highland White, "Patti;" toys, Mrs. E. Lambert's pekingese, Twinkletu; and non-sporting, Miss D. Burleigh's miniature poodle, Mid Crest White Rebel.

Good-Natured Violets

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

Anybody can grow African violets I doubt if there is any other house plant so good natured a tolerant of neglect over-watering undue watering dust on the leaves and the insect ills all of the average home in winter and it is a rare occurrence to hear of a plant actually dying

As I say, anybody can grow them, but to keep them blooming prolifically is a horse from a different milk wagon, and a surprisingly large number of the letters which come to my desk are from readers whose violets have gone on a sit-down strike

Typical among these letters is one from a lady on Cadboro Bay Road who moved here from Regina and now besieging her African violet collection with her They had bloomed almost continuously for her in Regina but they haven't had a flower on them since she came to Victoria

If the plants are otherwise healthy about the only thing you can do is to try them in different locations in your home It may be that a draft is striking the plants and there is nothing else will make an African violet sulk as quickly as a cold draft

It is probable that [illegible] Regina had slightly [illegible] effective weather [illegible] prairie home [illegible] in for so much [illegible]

Saanich councillors were told Monday night that the munici[illegible]pal police force can regulate traffic around the lake and roads leading to the lake but is [illegible] to curtail activity on [illegible] itself.

Meanwhile Saanich Reeve Arthur Ash said yesterday that he sent a letter to the Victoria mayor and council stating that it was the city, not Saanich, that was being defied by the racing club in going ahead with plans for the regatta.

The reeve pointed out that the city's approval of the meet was subject to the approval of Saanich. The municipality upheld a decision of the Victoria-Saanich beaches and parks committee in voting against the regatta.

The reeve contended that power to regulate lake traffic might possibly be in the hands of the city water commissioner.

The club continued its plans for the racing meet with the announcement yesterday that Bill Muncaster, winner of the Lord Cup for unlimited hydroplanes in 1956, will race a 136-m.p.h. mahogany inboard hydroplane here Monday.

Three Weddings

Ottawa's first Sikh wedding ceremony was solemnized with marriage of Sardar Indrajeet Singh, left, and Noni Maria Elizabeth Palar, right. Ceremony was conducted by groom's father, Cardar Karnail Singh, centre. Bride is daughter of Indonesian ambassador, and since she is a Christian a civil wedding ceremony followed. Then to satisfy customs of her people, an Indonesian wedding was solemnized.—(CPC)

19TH YEAR IN BUILDING MATERIALS
WHO WAS IT?
That fire said. You can't stop people from thinking [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] this a how he idea loss get fat [illegible] Start em thinking about new year's automobile models of your [illegible] [illegible] somehow in the scramble the buyer drops a few hundred on this year's model but what of it if he's the envy of his neighbors
Well you can be the envy of your neighbors and have a few hundred saved, too, when you modernize that home with materials from Stewart & Hudson
Add a new enclosed porch—new roofing siding stucco new steps fencing—kitchen cabinet—floor tiles—soundproof ceiling tiles.
Do the job yourself or call in the contractor of your choice. Get all materials and labor now—pay later—terms up to 24 months and the lowest interest rates in town. Oh yes! Think back—do you remember any of your acquaintances re-siding or redecorating some although making some profit from the transaction?
REMEMBER
Monday, July 1st is Dominion Day and a holiday for most. The longest daylight period of any holiday to work on that building project. Naturally we'll be closed for the day and to be sure of your materials being delivered would you please have your orders in by Thursday.
CURIOUS, ISN'T IT?
The harder you work, the luckier you become and that's how we apply it to your lumber sales this week. For instance, 1x6 Shiplap requires a little more work in covering an area but you do get a superior finished job and you do save money because we've priced it lower.
1x6 Economy Shiplap, M $35.00
1x6 Premium Shiplap M $44.00
1x6 Shiplap No. 3 Grade M $60.00
1x6 Shiplap No. 1 and 2 M $73.00
For the really fancy buyer
1x6 Economy Boards $32.00
2x4 Dressed Economy $37.00
1x10 Rough Cedar Siding $29.00
1x1 Dressed Boards $35.00
1x4 Dressed Boards $29.00
Now please come down and look at this 1x8 Cedar Beaded Panelling. Can be used for shiplap on walls, floors and roof or lining in summer camp—garage—basement. Patterned on both sides so you have a pure finish whichever way you look
1x8 RM $7.50
1x8 WM $10.00
1 000 BM $60.00
Keep coming—
2 500 BM only $60.00 M
Here's a very timely special and you save $10.00 M because we bought a mill surplus carload and pass on the saving. 1"x6" Red Cedar Rough Siding, smooth face — regular lengths — air dried — goes right on walls without backing — shiplap joint — takes paint or stain
per 100 ft $4.20
per 1 000 ft $47.00

KERRY DRAKE

TV TALK

—By Bruce Lowther

Paul Gregory, planner of recent reading tours by Charles Laughton and other actors, has announced details of his three 90-minute spectaculars on CBS next season.

For Crescendo, a history of music, due Sept. 29, Gregory is trying to lure Gary Cooper, Polly Bergen, Rex Harrison, Bing Crosby, Louis Armstrong, Harry James, Frankie Laine, Burl Ives, Ella Fitzgerald, Buddy Rich, Perez Prado, Paul Whiteman, Lena Horne, Guy Mitchell, Carol Channing and Carmen Cavallero.

His second show would be about Grauman's Theatre, starring many of those who have made prints in the famous cement. His third would be based on Benet's "John Brown's Body," starring Tyrone Power, Eva Marie Saint, Lloyd Nolan and Agnes Moorehead.

Seven Lively Arts, the CBS show to be emceed by John Crosby, also plans a biography of John Brown, along with a "Nutcracker" ballet, and shows about Hollywood reporters, the Wild West, Jazz and sports.

At NBC, they're talking about a 90-minute show about Japan, complete with Kabuki and geisha girls.

TV BITS: There are rumors that CBS may merge with Westinghouse to give itself the lineup in TV sets that rival NBC enjoys with RCA . . . CBS is spending $7,000,000 to expand Television City in Hollywood by adding two new studios . . . Ed Murrow was off Person to Person last week because he was in Yugoslavia filming a See It Now with Tito.

In last week's ratings, Ed Sullivan beat Steve Allen 15.2 to 12. Lucy and 21 tied, and an NBC music show edged Lawrence Welk 11.0 to 10. . . . Mr. Adams and Eve has been renewed for another season, and plans to use guest stars from now on, but the Ray Bolger show has been cancelled . . . ABC has approved a rock 'n' roll show each Friday night through the summer, and if it clicks, will extend it through the fall . . . CBC will start Profile July 16, a series of interviews with well-known people such as Martin Niemoller and several Canadian painters. . . . Marlon Brando may make his TV debut on an NBC spectacular this fall.

Daily Astrology
WEDNESDAY, JUNE 26, 1957

Today's quotation: "One is nearer God's heart in a garden than anywhere else on earth."—Dorothy Frances Gurney.

Wednesday for everyone: Stay clear of a tendency toward upsets, opposition. Be cautious, conciliatory, considerate and conscientious. Make progress in completing tasks, solving problems in the evening.

Look for Your Birthdate and Birthsign Below

March 21 to April 19 (Aries)—Keep busy but don't bet on your sagacity. Double-check judgment, facts.

April 20 to May 20 (Taurus)—Grasp chances for minor profits, commercial progress, but don't be taken in. Recheck possessions; count change.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini)—Exert personality; go places; win recognition. However, avoid misunderstandings, inharmony.

June 21 to July 22 (Cancer)—Get on the trail of required aid and current dilemmas; find the answers. Catch up with rest or duty calls.

July 23 to Aug. 22 (Leo)—Attract attention and good will. See friends. Don't mix money matters and friendship.

Aug. 23 to Sept. 22 (Virgo)—Keep your feet on the ground. Make safe progress regarding business, employment.

Sept. 23 to Oct. 22 (Libra)—Push your plans toward fulfilment; resolve issues; but keep clear of involvements.

Oct. 23 to Nov. 21 (Scorpio)—Arrive at agreements or fortify savings. Shun impracticality, waste, however.

Nov. 22 to Dec. 21 (Sagittarius)—Do not push affairs which are overly dependent upon an O.K. or co-operation from others. Be tactful; avoid confusion.

Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 (Capricorn)—Let tasks at hand top your agenda today. Recheck facts, figures; get things straight.

Jan. 20 to Feb. 18 (Aquarius)—Try to see events and individuals in proper focus. See dear ones. Avoid risks.

Feb. 19 to March 20 (Pisces)—Be primed for happenings linked with home, office or kin. Solve problems.

Planning ahead—Good for entertaining, sociability, etc.: June 27, 28; July 1, 3, 8, 16, 18.

Parade Planned

Events Set For Nudists' Convention

A Dominion Day parade is one of the events planned for the convention of 300 nudists at Shawnigan Lake this weekend.

Delegates will take part in the annual three-day conference of the Western Division of the Canadian Sunbathing Association at the grounds of Vancouver Island's Sol Sante Club.

Contestants will be restricted to making their costumes from articles they have with them on the grounds.

Registration of delegates will be held Saturday morning, together with the allotment of space for tents, trailers, housing and parking of cars.

After lunch, the CSA executive will meet to draw up an agenda for the business meetings to be held Sunday and Monday, and between 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. entries will be accepted for volleyball, badminton, table tennis, horseshoe pitching and archery.

Bingo, a weiner roast for the kiddies and dancing for adults will complete the evening.

The first business meeting of the CSA executive will be held from 10 a.m. to noon Sunday and elimination contests for the sports events will be held in the afternoon.

At 2.30 p.m. a Prince and Princess Sunshine 1957 will be chosen from among the youngsters, and a variety show will be held in a barn on the grounds in the evening. Dancing will follow.

Monday the final business meeting of the executive will be held in the morning, and in the afternoon the finals of the sports events will be held, the fancy dress parade and prizes will be presented.

Native Costumes Brighten Dance

PARKSVILLE — Almost 600 persons gathered at Parksville Community Hall for the 14th annual midsummer dance, sponsored by the Alberni Valley Scandinavian Social Club.

Native costumes worn by dancers added color to the event.

Who Will Get Her Crown?

Eyes of hopeful beauties in Miss Comox Valley contest slated for July 1 in Courtenay are turned on last year's queen, pretty Marie Karlsen of Cumberland. Winner of the Jaycee-sponsored contest will represent the district in the Miss PNE competition in August. Entered so fare are, from left, Leona Feeley (CRA), Louise Thomson (Job's Daughters-De Molay), Margaret Janes (Kinsmen), Beverly Bell (Eagles), Jeanette Cottini (CDL). — Newscraft photo.)

Vote Will Decide Rest Day

NORTH COWICHAN—Store hours in Chemainus district have caused a row among merchants. A meeting of the Chamber of Commerce recommended Monday at the most suitable day for closing.

Another group wanted Wednesday, so delegates from those wanting Monday secured 25 signatures to present to the municipal council. In view of the difference of opinion, however, council decided to hold a ballot poll on the question.

Ballots will be distributed to all licence holders asking them to vote for their choice of day between Monday or Wednesday. The ballots will be counted at the July 3 meeting of council.

It Was All Too Much For Would-Be Thief

It was just too much for one would-be burglar in downtown Victoria early Tuesday.

At about 4.45 a.m. a patrolling constable found that an attempt had been made to break into the Dominion Meat Market, 1617 Douglas.

The burglar forced a screen door at the rear of the store, then set to work on an inner door.

He tried to force the plate around the key-type lock. No luck. He chisled a hole in the door just below the lock. No luck. He knocked two bricks out of the wall right beside the lock. No luck.

Leaving the broken handle of a screwdriver and part of a steel bit on the ground below the door, he gave up.

Respect Lacking For Dead

PORT ALBERNI — Lack of respect for the dead was shown by motorists who failed to pull over and stop for the funeral cortege of the late John Woodford, Ald. William Goddard declared at council meeting Monday night.

He deplored the fact that the motoring public "showed disrespect for a man who had done so much for his city."

Mr. Woodford had served for 14 years on the city council. He was buried last Wednesday.

MONTREAL TRUST Company

THE 1957 Federal Budget made provision for the self-employed to enjoy certain income tax exemptions on money set aside to build a retirement fund.

Montreal Trust Company now offers a Retirement Savings Plan that takes full advantage of this concession with important features of convenience and flexibility.

Members may contribute annually up to 10% of earned income to a Retirement Fund—maximum $2,500—and deduct this sum from taxable income.

MONTREAL TRUST COMPANY RETIREMENT SAVINGS PLAN

Montreal Trust Company is making available full information regarding the Plan through every branch of The Royal Bank of Canada. Regular deposits throughout the year at any branch of The Royal Bank of Canada provide a convenient method of saving, and may be used for other purposes, until you have determined the amount of your earned income. To obtain a tax credit, you instruct the Bank, within sixty days after the year end, the amount you wish transferred to Montreal Trust Company Retirement Savings Plan.

You may obtain a booklet giving full information about our new Retirement Savings Plan at any branch of The Royal Bank of Canada.
